

ily Telegraph

Lily of the valley ... does someone want me dead?

U

ew in
res in
olling

at 60
were
with

Tory
will
with

lered
have
port.
nt of
n the e.
of 55
ly 42

nd on
voters
sign is
immi-

silly Tel-
spots for
h trends
ave sup-
asm and

iced that
ke ques-
lence on
with Mr
Arena, it
any anti-
ad.

for Mr
ogramme
el Farage,
zed sepa-
e.

The Queen displayed a dark sense of humour when she made a joke about attempts to assassinate her by slipping poisonous flowers into her bouquets. On her annual visit to Chelsea Flower Show, Her Majesty stopped to chat to herb gardener Jekka McVicar, where the subject of lily of the valley came up. Ms McVicar, designer of the St John's Hospice Garden, told the Queen the plant was once used as a poison. The Queen replied: "I've been given two bunches this

Perhaps they want
dead!"

Chelsea: Page 11